Fit for Modern Leadership!

Virtual LIVE-Training for Organizational Design

Like in a seminar room, but from home. Flexible and at your personal pace

If you want to achieve more agility for your company, then you are at the right place. Our virtual training for organizational design makes you fit for the 21st centuries organizational and leadership challenges. Like courses in a fitness studio, numerous 90-minute LIVE sessions take place during the week, categorized in different levels of difficulty and formats (impulses, exercises, Q&A, etc.) which you will attend with other participants.

You choose the sessions flexibly and according to your appointments. The overall program changes weekly and repeats itself after eight training days with staggered times – all to make sure you won't miss anything of your training! Depending on your effort, you are able to finish the training-program after at least 8 weeks. at maximum after 27 weeks (90 minutes weekly). When the entire training is completed, you become qualified for the optional Masterclass. The graduates will achieve the certification as an organizational designer.

This virtual program perfectly suits you, if you...

- ...strive to solve organizational problems, others haven't even understood yet.
- ...want to acquire the toolbox with which, especially in times of crisis, unnecessary waste is eliminated and added value is promoted.
- ...want to learn how to successfully and effectively develop organizations, without playing continuous change-theater.
- ...you would like to build a network for exchange with other participants during and after the program.
