Fit for Modern Leadership!
The Future Leadership Program by the intrinsify Academy

Like in a seminar room, but from home. Flexible and at your own pace.

If you want more agility in your company, then you've come to the right place. Our Future Leadership program makes you fit for the organisational and leadership challenges of the 21st century.

You lay the foundation with the Future Leadership Sessions. You complete our high-quality eLearning (on demand) and can also attend numerous 90-minute LIVE sessions with other participants throughout the week with different levels of difficulty and formats.

After completing the Future Leadership Sessions, you will practice what you have learned at our Training Camp.

You can get the organizational designer certificate for agile teams and organisations by applying your knowledge and rounding off your complete program with the Master Class in our 3-day face-to-face format.

Our leadership program is just right for you, if you …

- …want to solve organisational problems that others don't even understand.

- …you want to acquire the toolbox with which unnecessary waste can be eliminated and value creation can be supported, especially in times of crisis.

- …would like to learn how organisations can be developed effectively instead of constantly playing change theatre.

- …you would like to build up a valuable personal network of like-minded people during and after the program.
